

ELLIE: A Week in the Life of an Engineering Fresher

Time:	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
Morning	10–11: Electronic Fundamentals. My favourite lecture!	9-10: Fluid Mechanics lecture 10-11: Maths tutorial every 2 weeks.	9-10: Tech for the Modern World 10-11: Maths for Engineers and Scientists	10-11: Mechanics of Materials lecture.	9am: Talk with supervisor every other week. 10-12: Tech for the Modern World	Lazy morning. By this point in the week, you need bit of a break.	Lie in! Wake up to fried eggs on toast.
Afternoon	1-2: Mechanics of Systems lecture 2-3: Thermodynamics lecture 3-4: Maths for Engineers and Scientists	1-2: Design lectures during 2 nd term. 2-3: Design seminar. 3-4: Maths for Engineers and Scientists	1 o'clock: Lacrosse training on Milfield field. Chill out with the flat or go to the gym.	Additional reading to prepare for lab experiments. 2-5: Lab classes. Prepare for this with a ridiculous amount of coffee.	1-2: Optional Maths lecture. 2-3: Problem Classes. Focuses on different lectures each week.	Instep dance contemporary and ballet classes. Get a coffee in town before heading back to college to write up more notes.	College Mixed Lacrosse match. Food Shopping.
Evening	Early tea, then spend time copying up notes.	4-5: Manufacture lecture (2 nd term) 5-6: Computing Lecture (2 nd term)	7-9: Dance society and troupe. Sometimes pop by Film Soc.	5-6: Circuits and Systems lecture.	5-6: Electromagnetism lecture.	Go over the most difficult lecture notes.	Maths work and problem sheets.
Night	Chill out in the bar or enjoy Butler's formals – a three course meal held every 2 weeks.	6-7pm: Mentor Night – enjoy free food after a tiring day! Studio Tuesday – 50p entry for Butlerites	Loveshack Wednesday – Durham's best night out! Alternatively, watch The Apprentice with flat mates.	6-7pm: Mentor Night. Write up lab reports then enjoy a film.	Live music at Butler Bar.	Head out to a bar or nightclub in Durham.	Enjoy a film with the flat or go and socialise in the bar.

EMILY: A Week in the Life of a Sports Fresher

Time:	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
Morning	Woke up nice and early to attend 4 lectures	Lectures 9 – 11, then walked back up to Butler to do a bit of work.	LIE IN!! Day off – got to love it!	Physiology lab practical – long walk down to Hild Bede.	Wake up around 10 for two seminars for Discovering Society and Sport Culture and Society	LIE IN!!!	Up early for a netball match at Maiden Castle
Afternoon	Walked back up to Butler to grab some lunch before walking back down into town for my final lecture	Work on tasks for my seminars and see who's around in my flat and distract them from whatever they are doing (they loved it)	1pm Netball time, headed down to the MUGA to have a good game and catch up with the team	12 – 1pm seminar for sport psychology	Back to Butler to do some work, before catching up with other flats around me.	Shopping time, time to head to Tesco to buy the essentials	Back from netball. Washing up has to be done, wake up flatmates as they are still enjoying their lie in (maybe a bit of work)
Evening	Time to put down the work and catch up with my flat mates, make dinner and have a good old mess around	Sometime between 5-6.30pm: Mentor Night - free food, then back to the flat to get ready for a night out	Gym session before the night out, catch up with friends and make some dinner.	Gym session, maybe pop down to see my mentor and get some food!	BUTLER LIVE! – Great night of live music, get a couple of drinks and spend time in the amazing bar	Netball 1pm good session before the game tomorrow.	JCR Meeting in the bar or just the bar quiz depending which week it is.
Night	Maybe a film, late night chat or might even just go to bed	Pre drinks with the flat mates and then head out to Studio!!!	LOVESHACK Wednesdays, a good night out always fun!	Head to the bar with my friends: got to love the 50p cokes	Maybe head to Klute or have a good old film/catch up TV night	STUDIO again Just cant get enough	Early bed to prepare for a fun-filled week to begin again

SUSIE: A Week in the Life of an Anthropology Fresher

Time:	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
Morning	Fast Asleep (let's be honest unless there's a lecture I rarely rise before 1pm)	9-10am: Families in the Social Order. Hang out in the CLC cafe for a few hours	10am: Well-being, Livelihood and Society 12pm: Peoples and cultures	Asleep	Asleep/ Hungover	Asleep	Asleep/ Hungover
Afternoon	2-3pm: Human Origins and Diversity Lecture 3-5pm: Ancient Civilizations of the East (or any module chosen as your elective).	12-1pm: Criminology lecture	2-4pm Cheerleading! "We're the Butler Tigers we're fierce and we're strong WOO!" <3	Still Asleep? Eventually wake up to watch several episodes of CSI and then go to the shop and buy chocolate...ah student life :)	4pm: Peoples and Cultures tutorial Do some washing make a joint meal with friends.	1am: Instep dance classes at DSU. Advanced ballet and Contemporary, walk into town after and shop for a new fancy dress outfit.	Have lunch with my college sister and have a good gossip about the weeks lectures and nights out.
Evening	Make some dinner, hang out with friends and then maybe hit the gym. Maybe...	5:30pm: Mentor food! Who doesn't like free food? Everyone congregates in the bar to chat. 7pm: Yoga in the Howlands.	7-8pm: Dance society, learn a new dance style every week. 8pm: Troupe, learning a routine to perform at Butler Day.	Maybe go and support a friend in a Butler football or squash match OR Mentor night again.	Hang out at the Butler bar, see if my friends can persuade me to go out/I can persuade them.	Chill in one of Durham's lovely cafes and have a look over my notes from the week.	7pm: JCR meeting. Free fizzy drinks! Support friends as they hust (do speeches) for exec positions within Butler.
Night	Halloween Formal! Lots of fun, dressing up and having a better meal than one that I can cook.	Pre-drinks in one of the flats, then to Butler Bar to down a Butler Bullet then on to the main event... STUDIO	Go home. Order a takeaway with friends and run to the bottom of the hill in the cold to pick it up.	Klute night! Officially rated the worst nightclub in Europe but still always packed, fun and with quaddies.	Butler Angels Event: Meeting the Butler alumni and free food and wine too!	Heading out, used to be Academy until it shut so...klute again.	DISNEY SOC. No specific time, but Sunday nights are often good Disney film watching times...